Welcome!

Dear Colleagues, Partners, and Students:

In 2021-2022, after returning from a worldwide pandemic domain, the Miramar College Career Center embarked on a change process to envision and develop the next generation of career services at Miramar. We examined environmental and industry trends that impact how we deliver career services. These trends include an intensified public focus on educational value with career outcomes post-pandemic as the perceived primary indicator of value, changing demographics, and needs of students. The unpredictable future of work. The increasing role of technology. Elevated employer expectations of students. Our examination coincides with the start of a college-wide strategic planning process and a new equity plan as the Miramar community works together to envision the college's future. The Career Center's 2022-2025 Strategic Plan creates the foundation for our ability to deliver and is grounded by our Mission and vision. Included in this is our quality enhancement plan for Career Services. A critical part of our strategic planning process was reflecting on why we do what we do. Our reflection and conversations resulted in the creation of a quality enhancement process, which can be found on page [23]. Together, these two plans provide the anchor for the "strategic doing" that will take place over the next three years and that includes three high-level strategic service unit outcome priorities and provides the visionary framework to guide us as we transform Miramar's career exploration landscape. We invite you to join us in our efforts to inspire excitement and influence the career preparedness and success of every Miramar student.

Kindly,

Claudia Estrada-Howell

Acting Dean

School of Business, Technical Careers, & Workforce Initiatives (BTCWI)

CAREER CENTER'S COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY, INCLUSION, AND EQUITY

The San Diego Miramar College Career Center aims to uphold and advance the college's commitment to diversity as a core value and strives to create and model an environment that fosters respect, inclusion, and equity. We actively work to address and eliminate racism, sexism, classism, ageism, ableism, homophobia, xenophobia, transphobia, antisemitism, Islamophobia, and other forms of hatred in our environment.

We are committed to developing and delivering inclusive programming and services and advocating for a more inclusive and equitable approach to career readiness and professionalism.

We hold ourselves accountable for being an antiracist and inclusive community through educating ourselves, engaging in self-reflection about our own social identities and positionality, examining our own biases, and taking action when injustices arise.

ALIGNMENT WITH MIRAMAR COLLEGE'S EQUITY PLAN

As a team dedicated to empowering students and alumni to achieve career success and improve their social mobility, we are committed to advancing our equity plan by:

- Enriching our community by including and amplifying underrepresented and marginalized student voices
- Educating ourselves and our employer partners on racial equity and inclusion topics
- Creating programming, resources, and services that support and are responsive to our diverse community
- Respecting the uniqueness of each individual's ideas, experiences, and identities
- Helping students and alumni build confidence to thrive in a global, multicultural workplace and make an impact in their careers and communities

COVID-19 IMPACT AND RE-ENGAGEMENT EFFORTS STATEMENT

Post-pandemic, it is essential to demonstrate to students and prospective students the value proposition in enrolling and completing a degree and/or certificate. With many students dropping out due to family responsibilities, citing cost as one of their main prohibiting factors to attending college, Miramar needs to highlight the clear connection between academics and an increase in earnings. San Diego holds one of the highest living wage standards and some of the highest housing costs in the country. Students have to make the difficult decision to work first and put school second. Career services can play a significant role in attracting this current wave of students. Gone are the days when higher education was prioritized before getting a living income. Technology and the gig economy have also played a role in why so many students no longer choose college as their first option. This is why it is more important than ever to provide current and prospective students with knowledge on the importance of career planning and degree completion. Furthermore, with the largest population of students not enrolling in or re-enrolling in classes being LatinX or African American, it becomes apparent that Miramar needs to focus efforts on showing our largest disproportionately impacted students the value of completing their degree in order to earn a livable wage. By creating quality career services, we can better support our students.

CAREER SERVICES STRATEGIC PLAN

IN SUPPORT OF OUR VISION AND MISSION, WE COMMIT TO THE FOLLOWING:

Integrating career into the student experience, including integration into Academic and Career Pathways. Engage in a quality enhancement process to develop a holistic model for delivering quality career education and experiences for Miramar students and Alumni with a keen focus on disproportionately impacted populations.

OPPORTUNITIES

- The Career Center's primary challenge is the need for physical space to facilitate high-quality career services for students, alumni, employers, and community members.
- Currently, there is only one office available for career counseling appointments. This situation significantly limits the number of students seen by a career counselor for career services. The limited space also directly impacts D.I. student populations due to the limited availability of appointment time slots.
- There is a clear opportunity to improve student engagement with career services by relocating the Career Center to a space supporting adequate staffing to meet student needs.
- We have an opportunity to embed work-based learning campus-wide and support Credit for Prior Learning efforts.

QUALITY ENHANCEMENT

National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE) Standards for Career Services

Quality improvement initiatives can be externally driven, such as accreditation or certification processes; these entail an outside team of professionals using the organization's criteria to collect evidence and issue a pass/not pass decision-based on that evidence. Career services follow specific standards to assess its operations. As such, the San Diego Miramar Career Center has undergone a self-evaluation guided by NACE standards.

The NACE Professional Standards for College & University Career Services:

- Represent current national expectations of excellence in professional career services practice.
- Have been designed to be reasonably attainable by all institutions of higher education.
- Are written broadly to reflect variations in career services provided by individual colleges and universities.
- Provide meaningful measures of program and service effectiveness to help meet assessment and accountability expectations.

The standards provide fundamental criteria that practitioners can use to judge the efficacy of administrative structure, leadership, resources, and operations. Thus, the standards provide a unique opportunity for self-regulation to meet accountability expectations for both programs and practitioners by encouraging self-assessment initiatives. As a quality enhancement initiative, self-assessment is internally driven, involves significant input from staff and multiple constituency groups, requires the honest and meticulous analysis of evidence, and results in a plan of improvement. The ground rules for the successful use of the NACE Professional Standards for College & University Career Services include:

- Implementing a process that is clearly focused on quality enhancement rather than pass/fail;
- Demonstrating commitment to continuous improvement of processes, programs, and services;
- Involving as many of the career services staff as possible in the self-assessment process;
- Building mutual trust among team members so that conflicts and differences of opinion can best be resolved in the best interest of the institution;

Career Services Components outlined by NACE Standards:

- 1. Career Advising/Counseling
The institution must provide career advising/counseling to assist students and other designated clients at any stage of their career development.
- 2. Online and Distance Career Services
Career services must provide current, valid, and reliable online resources that help students pursue their career goals.
- 3. Career Information and Resources
Career services must make current and comprehensive career information accessible to students and other designated clients as they explore and make career decisions.

4. Employment Services
Career services must help students and other designated clients to explore a full range of career and work possibilities that match their career goals and workplace/community fit; prepare job-search competencies and tools to present themselves effectively as candidates for employment.

5. Transition Services
Career services must help students and other designated clients to identify undergraduate, graduate, or professional school programs that match their career goals; present themselves effectively as undergraduate, graduate, and professional school candidates.

6. Experiential Learning (Work-Based Learning)
Career services should provide experiential learning programs or help students identify experiential opportunities. Career services should: work closely with other departments that provide experiential learning opportunities; help students develop strategies for finding and pursuing financial resources to support experiential learning.

CAREER SERVICES QUALITY ENHANCEMENT

Quality Enhancement Process Findings and Recommendations

After completing the quality enhancement process via the NACE standards, three recommendations came to light; 1. Facilities and Equipment, 2. Technology and Software, and 3. Staffing. All recommendations map to the Miramar College Strategic Plan. The following section describes each of these recommendations in detail.

1) Facilities and Equipment:

The Career Center's primary challenge is the lack of physical space to facilitate high quality experiences for students, alumni, employers, and community members. Currently, there is only one adjunct office available for career counseling appointments. This limits the number of students seen by a career counselor for career services. This directly impacts D.I. populations due to the limited availability of appointment time slots.

The Career Center relocation efforts will require support of new equipment and potentially re-furnishing of a space to achieve the department's goals and SUOs to increase the number of D.I student populations being served. At this time, we do not have a location identified. Needs will vary based on the location determined. (Strategic Goal I, II, & III)

2) Technology, Software & Data:

In order to provide equitable outcomes and services, and to achieve the department's goals and SUOs, the Career Center will need adequate technology to support our center operations.

Necessary technology to support our Career Center office includes:

- 14 new desktop computers are needed, and 5 of which will require dual monitor set-ups. These computers will be dedicated for our contract employees and part-time employees to perform their daily tasks and responsibilities to maintain Career Center operations. (Strategic Goal II)
- 14 new laptops are needed to support our contract employees and part-time employees in offering online options for career counseling services, career-related workshops and events, and live chat with students, alumni and community members. (Strategic Goal II)
- 7 Apple iPad Mini's are needed for social media management to re-engage students through creative methods of communication. This technology will support the office with marketing efforts to increase awareness of career services, resources and tools such as Handshake, outreach efforts toward D.I student populations, and Work-Based Learning opportunities. (Strategic II)

Necessary software to support our Career Center office includes:

- A robust virtual interview practice platform is necessary to provide our students and alumni with 24/7 access to artificial intelligence-powered feedback for practicing interview skills to land their dream job. Big Interview is a popular platform used by many colleges and universities to provide student users with AI-driven mock interview experiences and feedback without needing to share their practice with others. The platform provides the ability to create custom interview questions but comes with hundreds of pre-built interviews across a huge range of professional fields and difficulty levels. In addition to interview practice, additional video-based curricula are available for students to develop their salary negotiation skills, resume-building, and more. Multiple tracks are available including a fast track for when an interview is coming up within a few days, and a mastery track which provides quizzes, ongoing support, guidance and in depth training for competitive/difficult interviews. (Strategic Goal II)

Necessary data to support our Career Center office includes:

- Ongoing access to student and graduate databases for collection of outcomes data is necessary for the improvement of career services. The Career Center would benefit from partnering with institutional research professionals to collaborate on data analysis and reporting. (Strategic Goal III)

3) Staffing:

A) 1.0 Career Counselor (Full-time Tenure-Track Faculty Position)

Currently, our Career Center offers limited availability for student appointments due to the limited hours and specific skills of our Adjunct Career Counselors. A full-time Career Counselor will contribute to achieving the department's goals and SUOs by reaching more students, helping to create more DEI-focused strategies in career counseling, and having the Career Center become more involved with Guided Pathways and different committees involved with campus conversations regarding career exploration. If the Career Center served 365 students with very limited adjunct career counseling hours, it would be ideal to see us double the number of students who use our services with the support of a dedicated full-time career counselor. With the addition of a full-time Career Counselor, the Career Center will be able to provide inclusive and equitable practices for all its students and alumni and strengthen employer partnerships, allowing the Career Center to contribute to institutional goals.

In alignment with the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE) professional standards for College and University Career Services, the Career Counselor will:

- Provide career counseling, coaching, and counseling-related services through scheduled individual student appointments, drop-ins, workshops, career planning courses, outreach opportunities, special events, and other available resources (Strategic Goal I, II, & V)
- Refer students to relevant campus and community resources if assistance is needed beyond the scope of career counseling, coaching, and mentoring (Strategic Goal I, II & IV)
- Maintain appropriate records for future work with students in their career planning and development (Strategic Goal I & II)
- Educate students about the potential benefits and pitfalls of social media and the importance of a positive digital "footprint" (Strategic Goal I & II)
- Facilitate career assessments and interpretations for students to discover their skills, values, and interests and to understand how these relate to their academic goals, co-curricular options, and career opportunities (Strategic Goal I, II, & V)
- Guide students in obtaining, evaluating, and applying occupational, educational, and employment information to their career planning (Strategic Goal I & II)
- Support students through the establishment of short-term and long-term career goals (Strategic Goal I, II, & V)
- Explore career options with students through work-based learning, such as internships, shadowing experiences, summer and part-time jobs, apprenticeships, cooperative work experience and education, volunteerism, service learning, and/or other experiential education (Strategic Goal I, II, & V)

3) Staffing Continued:

B) 1.0 Work-Based Learning Coordinator (Full-time Tenure-Track Faculty Position)

The Career Center currently lacks a dedicated Work-Based Learning Coordinator. The full-time Work-Based Learning Coordinator will contribute to achieving the department's goals and SUOs through increasing employer engagement, partnerships with instructional faculty, career events, and work-based learning opportunities for students, including industry-specific tours, job shadowing opportunities, and more. This role will also assist the Career Center in ongoing data collection on how to better serve our D.I. populations and support them with internship and job searches.

With the addition of a full-time Work-Based Learning Coordinator, the Career Center will be able to provide inclusive and equitable practices for all its students and alumni, and strengthen employer partnerships, allowing the Career Center to contribute to institutional goals.

In alignment with the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE) professional standards for College and University Career Services, the Work-Based Learning Coordinator will:

- Work closely with other departments that provide Work-Based Learning opportunities (Strategic Goal I, II & IV)
- Help students develop strategies for finding and pursuing financial resources to support experiential learning (Strategic Goal I, II & V)
- Assist students in connecting with appropriate resources, faculty, and staff to obtain academic credit where relevant (Strategic Goal II & II)
- Help students obtain career-related experiences with organizations that provide adequate supervision and opportunities for students to reflect upon their learning and career development (Strategic Goal I, II, & IV)
- Monitor positions posted in the Career Center as Work-Based Learning opportunities for students, and ensure consistency with the NACE definition and criteria for internships (Strategic Goal II)
- Assist other departments and external constituents, such as employers, in developing or enhancing existing Work-Based Learning opportunities (Strategic Goal I, II & IV)

Conclusion

When it comes to career services at Miramar College, we have a huge equity problem on our hands. It is not enough to offer our students a handful of workshops and events. We must offer career services at scale. We have to prioritize modern technology, be able to offer high-impact career practices, and teach students how to build social capital. We should do this in an adequate centralized space that creates conditions where our students can thrive in their own career exploration. We also have to frame career readiness as a campus expectation, a campus-wide commitment. Even if we are guarded in requiring these services for completion, we can still create an unavoidable culture of career readiness that is welcoming to every student and alumni. Embracing the three recommendations will result in scaling career services at Miramar College. Doing this, will undoubtedly provide alignment with our enrollment management, strong workforce, guided pathways, and equity plan.
