Operational Definitions

Academic standing: A student's academic status for the term.

- Good standing: Not on probation/not disqualified.
- Probation: Includes academic probation (students whose GPA falls below a 2.0 after completion of 12 units at SDCCD) and progress probation (students who attempt a total of 12 or more units and do not complete the class for over 40% of those units).
- Disqualified: Includes academic disqualification (students on academic probation whose non-cumulative GPA falls below 2.0 in subsequent semester) and progress disqualification (students on progress probation whose cumulative incomplete enrollments reaches or exceeds 40% in the subsequent semester).

Benchmark: Benchmarking is the process of comparing the performance of the group being studied against the performance of a similar group. For example, using the college-wide population as a benchmark can determine if an intervention has been effective to improve the performance of a target group.

For this report, the benchmark cohort consists of students who took only the same class(es) as the target cohort at Miramar College in fall and spring terms from 2014/15 – 2016/17.

Operational Definitions

Course Repetition: A student repeating a course they had previously enrolled in. Repetition in the next spring/fall term, or in the summer term following a spring enrollment, is considered term repetition. Repetition within the next three terms is considered annual repetition.

Enrollment: The number of seats enrolled, or duplicated headcount. Drops, never attends, cancelled, and tutoring classes are excluded.

Disproportionate Impact (DI): Disproportionate impact occurs when a subset of students based on student characteristic such as age, race, and gender are unjustifiably experiencing lower outcomes (e.g., retention and success rates) compared to a benchmark. It is determined by the percentage point gap method.

Percentage Point Gap (PPG): A method to measure disproportionate impact by calculating difference in success indicator between the whole student population and subgroups and by taking into account group sizes. As groups sizes get smaller, the margin of error increases. For more information about the percentage point gap and margins of error by group size see:

<https://www.cccco.edu/-/media/CCCCO-Website/About-Us/Divisions/Digital-Innovation-and-Infrastructure/Research/Files/PercentagePointGapMethod2017.ashx>

Operational Definitions

Persistent Enrollment: The number of seats enrolled, or duplicated headcount, by students who have taken a class at Miramar College in a prior term. Enrollment in the next spring/fall term, or in the summer term following a spring enrollment, is considered term persistence. Enrollment within the next three terms is considered annual persistence.

Persistence Rate: The percentage of students, unduplicated by headcount, who enroll again at SDCCD after having taken a course at Miramar College in a prior term.

Retention Rate: The percentage of students who complete a course with a grade of A, B, C, D, F, P, NP, I or RD out of total official census enrollments. Cancelled and tutoring classes are excluded.

Student Type: Categorization of student by the modality of the course(s) they took that term (day, evening, online, or a combination).

Success Rate: The percentage of students who complete a course with a grade of A, B, C, or P out of total official census enrollments. Tutoring, non-credit, and cancelled classes are excluded.

English 101 and English 101X

English 101 and English 101X Trends

ENGL 101X cohorts had:

- Higher retention and success rates in cohort enrollments than non-X cohorts
- Higher retention and success rates in persistent enrollments than non-X and benchmark cohorts
- Higher term course repetition success rate than non-X and benchmark cohorts

ENGL 101 cohorts had:

- Course repetition rates equal to the benchmark cohort
- Lower course repetition success rates than the benchmark cohort
- Disproportionate impacts indicated for:
 - Spring 2019 cohort enrollment retention and success rates
 - Spring 2019 term persistence retention and success rates

Both ENGL 101 and ENGL 101X cohorts had:

- Persistence rates slightly lower than the benchmark cohort
- Higher annual persistent enrollment retention and success rates than the benchmark cohort
- Lower course repetition rates than the benchmark cohort
- Lower course repetition retention rates than the benchmark cohort

For spring, enrollment in the following summer or fall is considered “next term.” For fall, the next term is spring. Benchmarks are the average persistence rates for any English courses taken by students in ENGL 101 cohorts between 2014/15 – 2016/17 after their cohort term.
